SUMMARY

I am a passionate Frontend Developer fresher with a strong interest in building clean, responsive, and user-friendly web interfaces. I have hands-on practice with HTML, CSS, JavaScript, jQuery, and React, and I enjoy turning ideas into real web experiences. Currently, I am improving my skills by working on small projects and learning modern frontend concepts like component-based development, hooks, and performance optimization. I am eager to learn, grow, and contribute to a team where I can enhance my skills and create impactful digital products.
